Dear Mr. Trefil,

I am Automattic's outside counsel, and they forwarded your letter to me.

We've reviewed the website you reference, and we don't see the exhibits mentioned. If you have the specific URLs or the file names, we would be better able to confirm. It sounds as though Ms. Hammett either has or attempted to take down the documents, so we would recommend sending that information to her as well.

If the documents are still available, the fastest way to remove them would be for Ms. Hammett to contact wordpress support and they can assist her. Automattic would require a court order specifically identifying the file names and/or URLs before it would be able to take action itself.

With respect to the identity of anyone who may have downloaded the files, Automattic does not have that information.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best,
Mindy Morton
